

Contributors

Shihoko Nakagawa is a Ph.D. student in Women's Studies at York University, Canada. Her research areas are Gender, Poverty, Public Policy, and Social Movements, and her research focuses upon Single Mothers' Movements and Social Welfare Policy in the US, Canada, and Japan.

Hayrunnisa Goksel, hold an M.A. degree in Sociology and Social Anthropology from Central European University, Budapest. Undergraduate Education: Studied Sociology and History at Bogazici University, Istanbul. Research Interests: Ranging from domestic violence, state violence, the law, family and gender studies to the nationalism and social change.